The Notre Dame International Security Center

NATO AND THE UNRULY POLITICS OF ALLIANCE

Seminar Series: Susan Colbourn

Date:
Tue, Dec 10, 2024

Time:
4:30–6:00pm

Location:
1030 Jenkins Nanovic Halls

Susan Colbourn is associate director of the Program in American Grand Strategy at Duke University. A historian of post-1945 international affairs, she specializes in the politics of European security, the role of nuclear weapons, and the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO). She is the author of Euromissiles: The Nuclear Weapons That Nearly Destroyed NATO (Cornell, 2022). At present, she is writing a history of NATO from its founding to the present.

zoom
Watch Here

Free and open to the public | Learn more at ndisc.nd.edu/events